

---

Subject: Re: two "walls" will be almost touching the driver

Posted by Hodel on Wed, 03 Apr 2002 22:31:04 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Sam, Thanks for the help...it sounds like I need to make sure I have enough room on the sides for the damping material. Could you recommend anything other than fiberglass (like bubble pack?). Do I increase the volume of the enclosure by the volume of the fiberglass/bubblepack or is it transparent to sound? I will use the same volume as Wayne suggest for the Thermionics Three Pi reflex which is about 4 cubic feet.