Well Freddy, I don't play in a band, but I work with bands. I did drive-in shows for a while. Together with a friend we have both our own DJ and we play in bars and other parties. Now we need a new challenge, so we decided to go and amplify bands, together with providing in the total show. Where with 4 people, each with their own set. So we have a very big set together. 2 of the guys have some basic lights, and one of them programs professional light, and delivers it. Further on we have 1 guy that stands behind the mixer. I have many contacts with people in bands and so I'm always trying to find new gigs. Erik
