Well, I don't know about a stand. It would have to be one mighty stand. I thought about putting "tip toes" under my Theater 4s, but I ended up just putting a strip of 3/4" mdf under the front baffle to prop it up and aim it a little more at ear level. Someone had posted this idea a couple weeks back, and it ended up making a notable difference, at least for me. Of course, that may just be the room. Kevin
