

---

Subject: Please design equal centerspeaker

Posted by Erik from Holland on Wed, 22 May 2002 06:45:26 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Hi Wayne,I recently read a post about surround sets. They said you should consider that a center speaker has to have the same sound-color and warmth as the mains, or else a train will drive from left to right and sound different in the middle. So if I would build a pair of theater 4 pi's as mains, and use 2 pair of one or two pi's as surround. And I use eminence in all of them, they would have same sound color. But can you give me help with the center? I mentioned to take a 10" model and mirror it through the middle, and use my fans for it. But I should use eminence. Thank, erik.