Well, That's a bad idea. Of course it'll work, but the 4 Pi's are so huge, and they're expensive for this purpose. And they're not magnetically shielded. So putting the 4Pi on the television, is no option because it leaves no space for a screen coming out of the wall. Putting the television on the 4pi is no option because it's not magnetically shielded and television may get troubles cause of the vibrations. No, what I need is a center that's low and wide in front. Isn't it so that the eminence speakers have more or less the same sound. I mean, if I would use a JBL for the mains and eminence for the centers you would really have a problem. Can you tell me about the 4 Pi's, would they need a sub added for movie use? Or do they give enough bass. Can imagine that they are design for clean, dynamic music experience. And linear effect would be lost when stuffing much bass into them. Need to make well over thought choices, else I get disappointed. Also still thinking about using all JBL. How much more expensive is the Theater 4Pi with 15" if using JBL? Can you give a percentage? Don't have any idea what to do with the kappa's then. Thanks, Erik
