I saw your earlier pictures during your assembly phase. Since we are working with close to the same dimensions it's good to see them next to the MKII. I also have a pair. It helps me reference the size in my livingroom. They look great. Beautiful design. Even though I have almost all the parts now, I still have to finish my 2pi tower rear channel pair before getting into the 4pi's. Great work. Later, Mike H
