I ordered around 9:30 PST and have not checked the e-mail on that computer. Proably won't until Monday but I suspect that I didn't get them and will find an e-mail. I thought about ordering yesterday but was too tired and put it off. He who hesitates... Yes, I got the horns. Two weeks ago I bought the new JBL 2426H compression drivers and last week I started stringing resistors together in series -parallel or is it parallel- series, either way works for a 4 Pi. Maybe this week I will get it all running. I got delayed when I found the EV 12trxb speakers at Salvation Army and put those into living room condition. They are sooo sweet. Then I reworked an ESS Heil amt-la bookshelf. Also redid the x-over on a 1970 Hitachi JBL clone, a rare Bird called HS-500. SO I have been busy. Since I won't be doing the 2242 subs I will just have to finish the 4-pi. My family left for a one month tour of the Brazil Amazon rainforest areas so the neighbors are living in a state of acute decibel fear. They what happens to the sound levels when the homeroom monitors are gone. Stay tuned. tdc
