Subject: Re: Info on buying and using a woodworking router?
Posted by hifitom on Sun, 16 Jun 2002 12:35:07 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Try routerworkshop.com. A 3 1/4 Hp might be more than you need for this kind of thing, but it's really nice to have the extra power. I use a PorterCable 1.5 Hp plunge router and it does get to slow going in really hard woods. Nice for the basic stuff though. Buy good bits and you will have them for many years to come. You can really do almost anything with a router and some jigs. Check your local library for DIY woodworking books. If I remember correctly, there's one titled "the router cookbook".Tom

http://www.routerworkshop.com/index.html