First off the bad news. We looked at the cabinet dimensions for the 4pi theater series and its 9cuft!!! That is way to big. Can we construct smaller cabinets maybe around 5cuft at a hit in bass response? Mitch already has a subwoofer, so bass isnt all that important. Also, the good news is, Mitch is 90% sure he will build the 4pi's. He needs a good reciever with LOTS of power to drive the 4pi's though. Do you know of any recievers under 300 dollars that are a good value, and actually put out their rated power? Thanks!
