
Subject: Two Pi's Up and Running!!

Posted by Matts on Mon, 19 Aug 2002 12:49:13 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

My Jasper Jig arrived last Fri. and I finished my Two Pi's boxes and put the drivers in for a test run. Sound GREAT! I'm very happy with them. Playing them with a Njoe Tjoe and a 60Wper Adcom. Waiting for Paramours and then plan on moving up to the Theatre 4's. One thing I especially like about the Twos is the lack of the "crossover" effect I've heard in a lot of high-end speakers, i.e. when the tonality of the speakers changes in different frequencies. Noticed this a lot when listening to solo violin and cello music. With the the Pi's, it sounds like the same instrument playing whether in the lower or higher registers. Many thanks to all the posters here, especially Till E. for his woodworking and finishing tips. I made my speakers out of a nice piece of birch plywood, and have my Tried and True Oil waiting....
