I use Altec 604's and I'm real interested to see where Wayne goes with this as well. I've come close to buying the Marchand tube unit a few times but keep backing off because of price (I'm in Canada) and the fact that I really feel high frequency compensation is the way to go with compression drivers. For me, its got to be tubes, so it's exciting so see Wayne is thinking in this direction. Billf
