

---

Subject: Re: PSD2002

Posted by Wayne Parham on Wed, 23 Oct 2002 21:04:15 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Certainly, it could be used at lower frequencies if diaphragm movement was limited by use of less power. In this de-rated mode of operation, maximum SPL and dynamic range are reduced. Alternatively, you might use a high slope HP filter in the crossover, to help reduce out of band LF energy and thereby reduce excursion.