Subject: Re: Assuming....
Posted by ToFo on Fri, 25 Oct 2002 22:09:59 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

As a sub you wont have these issues. Unless your going loud, I don't know how much better 2 15 will be, if any. 1 15 is gonna move a lot of air, and lowthers, horn loaded or no, will get all they need from a good 15. Questions:Do you already have a driver?Do you have a target box size?Will it be used with a solid state amp?I would bet there is a Pi with your name on it. Most of the 15" Pi's could do well as a sub. Just delete the High frequency horn and crosover. JBL = pricy but real good. downside is not so much deep bass, but what you get will be as good as it gets.Eminence = cheaper, deeper and amazing sound for the money.Then what size box can you handle, and hey maybe a cornerhorn sub pair to get the best bass and keep the horn theme going. Now im getting carried away. (one can always dream/maybe I'll build some next year)Thomas