That was fun!By the way, you gotta ride in the Olds.....New window trim acts as hearing protection for the guys inside. I probably shouldn't be "such a kid" and should get some quieter pipes. It's got three-chamber mufflers now, but it's still pretty loud. Cool looking headers though - Jet coated silver and sticking out the wheel well, visible for all to see. That and the nine-inch Ford rear end and Centerlines kinda give it away - I originally intended for it to be a sleeper, and it still is to some extent. But the extras betray it. Now with the roller cam, it's screamin'!!!
