Thanks, I wasn't very confident when I planned how they'd look. I have no artistic talent but when I described how they'd look to my wife, son & nephew they all said 'cool'. I was going to paint the screws holding the drivers black but I kinda like the industrial look leaving them silver. The rest of the system is a DVD - Hitachi DV-C605 which I loathe DAC - MSB Link III no mods yet Preamp/Amp - a 6CG7/6BQ5 setup that I swiped from an old stereo RCA console. I upgraded the caps, removed balance/tone controls, removed 1 gain stage in the preamp. It looks like death waiting happen but it sounds as sweet as sin.
