JBL's have long been my favorites too. While I usually use 8 ohm "H" versions, the 16 ohm "J" versions are excellent too. Some people have reported marginally less bass from 2226's on low power SET amps, but this isn't the case on all SET amps. Many have said the same as you have - that the JBL's work very well on low power SET's. JBL Professional Series components are definitely favorites of mine.
