Hello Wayne. I have one of my 2 Pi towers complete and since it will be in my sons bedroom we dicided that we will probably want to protect the 10" driver. Can you recomend something to cover it with to protect it? Maybe a round cover like you put over a car door speaker... I dunno, what do you think. I guess I could get some cloth and stretch it over the driver but I thought there is probably something simpler and better.Thanks again Wayne
