Hi! I'm not sure what you meant by the 'running out of space' remark on your post, but if you're referring to physical space for speakers, you might consider building a pair of 2pi that are something in between 2pi regulars & 2pi towers, size wise. With measurements (H*W*D) 40" * 13.6" * 12" you will get an internal volume of about 2½ cb.ft. & bass down to ~50Hz (-3dB) when the box is tuned to 40Hz. These will be floor standers, but somewhat smaller & less obtrusive than the towers. Just my 2 cents. :)
