Thanks for your impressions. Always nice to hear someone new reinforce your own impressions. Kind of like reading the out of town papers about your own team! It was just a few days ago that I posted about listening to an "almost Theatre4" with the Dynaco ST-70, Wave 8's and Norh something monos. The Waves lacked the authority and ability to flesh out the music possessed by the Dynaco. Perhaps the 'veiling' you heard is partly that. But then The Psd-2002 is not as clear sounding as, for example, the Altec 811. And you really have to hear the 4's with SET's!
