Subject: Re: Flea-powered amps and big speakers Posted by Wayne Parham on Fri, 28 Mar 2003 21:33:05 GMT View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

The Paramours are the first tube amps I've owned, other than a tube radio collection I have. I have heard other high fidelity tube amps, but this is the first one I've owned and I think it takes a while to properly evaluate audio hardware. You sort of have to live with it a while. This has been enough of a positive experience that I do plan to try others.

Page 1 of 1 ---- Generated from AudioRoundTable.com