I can email you pics of the amp tomorrow. Contact me at moore01@fuse.net!d be glad to help you out, you wouldn't be the first and won't be the last, hopefully. I think you'll find that you'll have a great amps that you can pass on to your children, and their children.....that you yourself built and that will surpass most everything commercially available, and best of all, you built it, and your heart, and energy and sole will be stored in it....that's what this is all about.
