Subject: Re: Cornerhorns, revisited
Posted by Garland on Tue, 13 May 2003 09:43:06 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Hi Wayne,Of course, I'd love to have a pair of your cornerhorns but with my smallish listening room I just don't have the free wall space... maybe a new house is in order...! but anyway, I was wondering about the stability of the walls affecting the quality of sound reproduction with cornerhorns. I recall you warning of performance problems with suspended wood floor joists being too resilient and creating "drum-like" effects. Does the stiffness of walls affect the sound with cornerhorns? Just curious and thanks!Garland