Thanks a lot for posting that! Gordon Gow is a heck of a neat guy, and I really liked reading what he said. It's interesting to see how much of what they were saying in 1970 is the exact same things we're saying today. And I was really impressed with Gordon's ability to express himself. Good stuff.I hadn't read that article, and honestly, I'm surprised. I have read some from Roger Russell, and I'm certain it was from that very site. I was extremely impressed with what I read about Roger Russell, and now I see that I'm equally impressed with Gordon Gow. So I'm surprised I missed this article, and really glad you brought it to my attention.
