Wayne,I guess I missed this also. If there is just one sub model, please send plans to cathouse7@sbcglobal.net, If several different models, please advise and I will request the correct one for my application.Also, could you explain a little about the PiAlign software. The main problem is that I am a computer idiot-newbie. I downloaded the file, but when I opened it, there was a page of files. I attempted to open the first one out of curiosity, but that didn't work. I was looking for a tutorial but am obviously to stupid to find it. Can you advise? I have altec components I want to use with Pi horns. There is no better therapy than to demonstrate to the entire web surfing world exactley how lame my computer skills are! Thanks for the help,
Russellc
