I really don't know what any of those specs are. I don't know much about PA at all....but you think $2000 is asking too much? Oh, by the way, they AREN'T used. I thought I mentioned in the description that they are brand new. I only briefly removed one of them to check it out first. Anyways, thanks for the comments. I'm sorry to bother you guys with this. I just kind of acquired these from an auction earlier, and I really don't know much about this level of audio. Thank you guys so much for your help. The main problem is that I just have no way of checking what these sell for normally (since, as has been mentioned already, it's not a well-known brand).
