
Subject: Lessons learned at the Audiofest
Posted by 3moons on Wed, 09 May 2007 21:30:13 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I REALLY enjoyed the show. Thanks Wayne, Melissa, Fred and all involved. This was my first attempt to set up an audio room in a hotel. Wow and ouch! I learned...1. Never to totally judge any audio gear from one sitting in a hotel room. My stuff sounded SO different from my home environment.2. How hard all the guys and gals have to work to bring such an event together.3. After three years in two cities, I still love Wayne's Pi speakers and those Audio Notes. So many great speakers, so little room in my house!4.I'm still hungry for more!
