I've never corresponded with him directly, but I have seen the content of his photo gallery change- so he's around. I like the dual ten (mt102) design- looks kinda like the old Altecs. By the way, I have an Altec horn flare (only) from an 816 box- I could measure it and send on the dimensions. This one may be home built, but if it is, it's a good job. I need to have mid horns that go to 200Hz or so, to match up with the dual folded 15" horns on each side. The bottoms get boxy sounding much above 200.Larry Acklin
