

---

Subject: Re: Decisions, Decisions!

Posted by Wayne Parham on Wed, 05 May 2004 12:17:28 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

They're very tube friendly, but also pretty large at about 6ft3. That isn't huge but it isn't really small either. They're two feet wide and three feet tall, and they'll fit snugly into corners so they aren't intrusive. They also won't require corner placement, but will be shaped so that it is a good option. Price for a kit is great, just $225.00. I'm about ready to make plans available, and should have 'em done by the end of the week. We have all the parts for kits in stock except for the coils, which I expect later this week too.

---