I'm like you when it comes to computers but I know that too-much $$$ Mac's are the best for graphics.A few years ago I had a new PC done by a local computer shop. For less than $500 I got a 1.2GHz AMD Athlon processor/motherboard, 40mB hard drive, 256k memory, CD writer, 350 watt power supply and a decent graphics card in a nice case. They also took care of a few issues that popped up afterward on a morning to afternoon basis. That's why I like dealing locally rather than Dell or Best Buy, etc.You should check your local shops and go to CNet for reviews and commentary on components to know what you want.
