>Hey GM: wow thanks again for a great post. I'll copy your solution, except I'm thinking to make my removable mini-baffle circular for aesthetic reasons. do you think that will screw up the sound?
====You're welcome! No more so than mounting the driver on the rear.====>Your diy VOTTS are cool. are you happy with them? what amplification / x-over are you using?====No, not really, but then they're just a temporary solution with a mildly damped horn perched on top of a pair of cabs originally designed to 'pump up' the I hate stuffing so I'm planning to deflex panel the back wall and leave the rest nekkid, any thoughts on that plan?====I would do the top (or whichever end is opposite the vent) and at least one side also.
