Absolutely, on the amp deal; that is what I was hinting at with my post of friday asking if you would be using it with the 8 Pi or another high end speaker from your product line. I figure I can try covering the Theater 4's as a lesser priced combo and I personally was hoping you could give us your impressions on the higher end. Even 7's might be nice. Looking forward to this little venture. Those pics of McBrides 8's will make you a sale of components for the 8 Pi in about three more weeks if the IRS is on time with the check. They sure look great! I may have to mow a few more lawns. About Suzy, Tell her if you see her to bring a friend.
