So, do you have the Motorola tweets still, or are you using some other piezo? Do you think angling the tweeters in using dedicated pods might work or will that mess with the integration of the drivers. I thought I'd mount the woofers in their boxes hanging from the hat shelf with appropriate reinforcement.I'll try to keep the stealth look with the stock 6x9 grills so that only the tweeters are visible and somehow made obscure and protected from my 4 and 6 year olds! These are hopefully going to be Christmas presents from my son to me, so as soon as I can convince him (He's the one who got the $5ooo bonus, not me!! ;-( )I hope to have an order in for the kits. ...and Dave, can the Butlers run off of speaker-level outputs? Some amps can but are usually the cheaper mass market stuff.Happy Thanksgiving to All!!Garland
