Another year winding down, and while I have turned mostly lurker these days I still have a lot to like about Pi Speakers and this forum. It might seem trivial to some but anything that can bring such satisfaction as my speakers and the great online community that comes with them, is truly worthy of thanks. I have learned a lot from many here, and had a whole lot of fun along the way. So thanks to all, great having ya around, and extra special thanks to Wayne for making all of this work and for keeping the ideas coming. Ready, Set, EATThomas
