Well I already have the jbl 2225h , so I will be going that way. Plus I started this for something smaller than the A7. Bought Jbl drivers for the 4Pi, but got a great deal on the 10 inch Jbl mid, decided then to do the 7Pi Going to the 18 inch 7Pi puts me right back where I started size wise, no smaller than than the A7s! The flat packs would not be cheap to ship, but no more unreasonable than shipping the finished units, Plus I would do it simply because I could click "buy it now" and have the precut pieces arrive on my doorstep. I'll bet others would to. Convenience always costs money, I just don't seem to get around to it, and I already have the drivers! Choices, choices!Regards, Russellc
