It's great that you can get your speakers 10' apart. I think I may be limited to about 5' as the width of my room is about 12-13 feet, unless I start re-arranging furniture and such to try and get the longer wall.Can you describe the sound in comparison to other speakers you might have had or heard? I'm familiar with horns and large woofers, but only at night clubs and concert halls where are normally blasting in your face, so I don't know about their finesse with jazz and vocals.Thanks for your earlier comments. My credit card is slowing coming out of the wallet Regards,Henry
