He got my pair of 3677's, some horn slot covers, my truck and complete autographed Zampheer collection. But I got his Altec 902-B's with Tangerines. I love Tangerines. Oh and I got some other junk to make up for the loss of my Zampheer's.Oh those 902's. Could be the last piece of the puzzle. They go so much higher than the 806's I can't believe it. And just as the sand-boxes cleaned up the bass which released the potential of the mid-range, the extra extension on top gives a cohesiveness to the sound from top to bottom which blows away single drivers!You think life ends at 13kHz? Think again. I wonder how nice the pan flute would sound now.....
