There are a pair of used JBL 2425's(which he says are the same as the 2426's) for $200 on Bill Martinelli's website. Would it be worth buying these instead of the Eminence drivers, or are the Eminence drivers just about as good anyway?Also, does anyone have any used JBL 2226's? My only concern about not building the midhorn into the cabinet is that I'd have to completely rebuild the cabinet later to add the 10", due to my height constraint.
