Yes, a single 2226 is fairly amazing, with two you should have lots of air moving. I look at the JBL 18 inchers, I will probably snag a pair of these some day and install them in the bottom of my A7s and seal off the lower reflex from the mid horn like several do on the Altec users forum. Of course this will require a 3 way crossover, electronic for my purposes. More complicated wiring, etc. Regards,Russellc
