I hope I am looking at the same graphs (296-630.pdf & 296-632.pdf respectively). They looked like the same driver to me at first. This is bugging me now. Anyway, I must confess that I wasn't paying attention above 1K (BIG HF horn & deeper driver coming soon). They both looked great to me.As for the bass; on further inspection the 15PA is only +2 or 3dB from 30 to 40, which is not exactly huge. They can both be tuned to play solid to 30-something in most domestic sized rooms, & that is pretty cool. It seems we both like the other driver for the same reason, box size. I like the sound of a big cabinet. I do not know why, but box size seems to be a big deal in my room. That and a bit more in the mid thirties will put me over the edge when I take my musical taste into account.
