Thanks! Yeah Lance Rocks! IF you take the time to read my stories and pages you'll see my family is about 90% cancer ridden by the same specific type of very rare cancer and the support the LAF has given my family personally. There have been several more afflicted this year as I haven't updated the pages since Oct.I need to sign up again to help raise money for the 5th year now. They've revamped the way they do things as far as the LAF's setup goes since Lance retired and I haven't had time to adjust my pages so none of the donate links are working right now. I've managed to raise almost $2500 for them every year though in my spare time.
