Just checked again, seems to be fine now. I must be losing it. lol----------I always lurk at this site as I am hooked on corner horns. I have an old vintage pair but I am looking to upgrade to modern corner horns using JBL drivers sometime in the future. I have to complete my 22' x 25' family room first and need to research proper construction techniques so the nails do not pop out of my drywall. lol. A question for Wayne: What is the difference in construction between a standard cabinet and a Grande cabinet? I may have missed the information on your site, so I apologize ahead of time.Regards,Bill
