The other night I finally hooked up my Pro Pi7s for the L/R channels in my HT setup and really liked the big wall of sound they produced compared to the small monitors I have been using. I know the Pro Pi4 with matching JBL 2426 compression driver would probably be the best match for a center channel speaker, however it's larger and more costly. I was wondering how well the Pro 3Pi might work out as a center channel speaker with the Pro 7Pi. Could you send me plans for both the Professional 3Pi and 4Pi. Thanks
