JBL 2205H speakers are very similar to 2226H drivers, and are worth probably $100-200 in good shape. They are tuned very much the same, as JBL tends to make their 22xx series drivers somewhat compatible with each other. The 2205H has a shorting ring, so its distortion is very low, just like the 2226H. Power handling of the 2226H is a little higher.
