Subject: Re: Difficult Technical Question
Posted by Wayne Parham on Fri, 28 Jul 2006 05:18:21 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Peel the sticker off the smooth (glossy) paper backing and attach it to the cabinet. Some of the decals come with a second waxed paper, which is used to assist application of large decals or those with a lot of detail. It helps keep parts of the decal from moving in relation to one another while it is being attached. But on these small decals, it really isn't necessary. I think that second assist paper is what's confusing you. Just put the decal on the box, press it on and peel off the waxed paper - It'll come right off and leave the decal in place.