Posted by Wayne Parham on Wed, 23 Aug 2006 03:48:53 GMT View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Each horn is about 106dB/W/M. You could drive them with a SET, but I think they're pretty big for home hifi use. I've definitely worked extra hard to make them as high-fidelity as possible though, so I think they're pretty hard to beat. If a guy has the space, they're really excellent speakers, all the right stuff used in all the right ways.

```
Page 1 of 1 ---- Generated from AudioRoundTable.com
```