Subject: Sound Familiar?
Posted by Leland Crooks on Fri, 15 Sep 2006 10:44:19 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

The EVX-155 woofer provides unprecedented power capacity, linearityand excursion, made possible by the HeatWick™ total-thermal-engineeringdesign. The proprietary HeatWick design actually “wicks”heat away from the voice coil, significantly increasing power handlingand long-term reliability. A special frame extension and elongated polepiece provide a metal surface with close proximity to the entire lengthof the voice coil, providing a major heat-transfer path.From the EV site. My new subs are going to be neo drivers, and I haven't seen them yet, but I think I'll have to abandon the sinks. I'll use the hl's somewhere else one of these days.