By coincidence, we had a visitor to the store yesterday who recently heard the 4 Studio 2 Pi's I built for a friend. The speakers are hanging in the 4 corners of this fellow's mansard roofed shop. These guys are Dr. Hook freaks, 2 of them play in a local band that covers the Doctor's music. He, the visitor, said it was 'the best sound he'd ever heard' and played so loud the "tape on the drywall was peeling". IIRC, the amp is a cheap but powerful Sanyo. Need I go on?
