Hi, Cuppa JoeAbout the carpenter.I think that's important to, I always like a personal touch in this speakers, so to say. But dont't forget that Wayne Pi's are ready for CNC at least, I guess, some of them, isn'it so Wayne? Now, if you only have the drawings they can also do all the input on the CNC machine (you pay for the time anyway - man/hours).They also do the veneer process but that goes before the CNC-cutting.There is another forum about CNC machines and that stuff but I never been there long. You can also do laser cutting, besides milling 3D or both. Isn't life great? Best Regards.
