There's a CNC shop not too far from where I live, and they have cut their share of loudspeaker enclosures. However, I needed a hand-refined prototype to ensure that the finished product would assemble correctly. One or two prototypes is better than a dozen if something doesn't fit right! Actually, the builder did eventually finish a pair of boxes, but after 2+ years of modifications & simplifications in an effort to motivate him (since I paid up front), the result bore no resemblance to my original design. That deal was a friendship breaker!
