Hi Wayne, I am interested in building the Pi 4 using the best components possible and have a few questions. 1st a bit of background - I have built the La Scala's as bass for the Oris system but have grown dissatisfied with the full range Lowther sound - I just can't get on with the anomalies that the Lowther produces and I have been disappointed with the LaScala bass bins with K33 drivers - they are best described as 'lumpy' and not extended. I would like to know how low the Pi4's go? Are they suitable for smallish British rooms 12ftx15ft? And.... are they musical? Also I already have some 2226h's - so what would the cost of the rest of the drivers and crossover etc be to send over the pond? Best regards Stefan
